Anushka Trivedi / opheliagame

she / her, software maker, creative technologist, live coder, net artist, image and poem maker.
born in Lucknow, India. currently based in Tokyo, Japan.

Anushka, on the internet as opheliagame, is an upper caste-born woman technologist turned artist. In her work and life, she explores what it means to make things with code - sketches, poems, websites, zines, software, languages, archives, stories and everything else.

She spends a lot of times reading and going down rabbit holes, failing and succeeding at building personal archives and trying to write; and not enough time exercising, talking walks, drawing and knitting.
